Dedication

Mrs. Nancy Crandall

Anyone who has had Mrs. Crandall for a teacher or anyone who even knows her loves her. She is the kindest, sweetest, most generous person you could meet and anyone who meets her can't help but fall in love with her. Due to her dedication and commitment she has allowed her students to find their unique characteristics that will allow them to succeed in life. Mrs. Crandall's love is teaching and she has succeeded in being not only a great teacher, but a friend and mentor as well. The "Queen Bee" has taught us that hard work and diligence really does pay off and thanks to learning how to become one of her "worker bees," we all have learned to be perserverant and we have become better people by knowing her.

By letting her students express their poetry projects, or with Mrs. Crandall helping us look for a path in life that will make us happy with her career unit, she has always put her students first and she is one person that you can tell loves what she does and dedicates herself whole heartedly to her work. Therefore, on behalf of the class of 2002 and the whole school, we dedicate the yearbook to Mrs. Crandall. Thank you Mrs. Crandall, for being the wonderful person that you are, and for being an exceptional teacher and helping us achieve our goals and helping become what we believed not possible. You truly are one of a kind and your kindness and devotion is greatly appreciated.

Mollz and Pete. How cute :)

Semi-Formals!

Every year, Rutland High School hosts several semi-formal dances. Different school groups such as GMTI and Student Council use semi-formal dances as a way to raise money for the school. This year the senior and junior classes used the dances to raise money for their proms held in the spring.People of every grade participate in order to make these dances possible and everyone seems to have a great time!

Senior Spotlight
Amy Solari

On May 13, 2001 Amy Solari went to Lake George, with a group of fellow students, to become a certified scuba-diver for her upcoming YES Plan trip. Unfortunately, the group ran into some complications that left Amy injured. She still has a long road ahead, but Amy has shown an incredible amount of strength, and determination throughout her recovery. For this, we would like to recognize Amy for all she has brought to Rutland High School.

"Living might mean taking chances but they're worth taking Looking to all horizons, past and present, I see all the sights I wish and wish not to see. Perhaps as time passes our spirits shall come to rest, to this I only hope that friendship shall be alive as in the past. As your life progresses I ask you remember the words of a noble hero, by the pen of a humble poet, "To strive to seak and not to yield."

With all the sports teams winning their games and all the other activities, doing things for the community Encore Theater often gets over looked. The students involed with Encore put in long hours of practice. In the course of one play a single student could easily put in 150 hours or more in the theater. They run lines, practice blocking, and work on getting into character. They also start every rehersal with at least 10 to 30 minutes of relaxation. During this time, they lay down (not fall asleep), run lines in their head, work on their character's movements, and put their own mind into the mind of their character. It's a lot of hard work and alot of people don't realize how hard these people work. Along with the acting there is also the technical aspect of theater. The students build their own set, work and focus the lights, do the sound, make the costumes, and do pretty much every thing else that they use. With the hard and dedicated work of Cathy Archer (director), these students are able to put on some amazing shows. Encore's productions include "A Ghost for Rosanda" and "The Widow's Plight", "Peter Pan", and Aesop's (oh so slightly) Updated Fables.

Field Hockey

The girl's varsity field hockey team had a great season led by Coach Lynne Sanders. The team worked hard to achieve their many goals throughout the season. The tri-captains, Nikki Bierre, April Cioffi, and Morgan Crossman, led their team through an exciting season with many ups and downs.

Amy Solari was greatly missed throughout the season. However, she was never forgotten by the team. To keep her involved in the spirit of field hockey, the team held hands and prayed for her well being everyday after practice. This everyday ritual brought great meaning to the entire team.

Also, to help the team work better together, they had bonding time. These times included activities such as camping, swimming, and other little group activities.

Cross Country

The Girls Cross Country team had yet another outstanding season this year, winning both the MVL Invitational and Championship, as well as the Russ Pickering Invitational. The Varsity girls finished their season by placing third in the state, qualifying them for the New England Championship in Warwick, RI. Led by Tri-Captains Emily Fenn, Stephanie Sanborn, and Erin Greene, the girls took Rhode Island by storm, giving their personal best and having a great time together as a team.

The Boys Cross Country team also had a respectable season. With the addition of new runners, the boys team managed a better outcome than expected. Great endurance was seen from both the under classmen as well as the returning juniors and seniors. Led by seniors Dun Cochrane, Dan Firliet, and Matt Oldenburg, the boys finished out their season with strong performances at the state meet. As a whole, their season was filled with surprises. The boys not only met, but exceeded their expectations that were a set back from the very first practice.

Girls' Soccer

The Girl's Varsity Soccer team ended their season with an 8-5-1 record. The team worked extremely hard all season which showed in every game they played. The main reason for their success was their tremendous team bonding. The girls got along really well and never played a game without team work. The team was young so much of the same talent will be back next year and we look forward towardmany other great seasons.

Cheerleading

The Raider Cheerleaders have had a season full of excitement. This fall the team didn't have any competitions for varsity or j.v., so the teams got to practice a little more than usual. Extra practice time meant that the team could work on more advanced stunt sequences, faster dance moves, and team bonding. Both teams have gotten stronger throughout this season and have even been asked to travel with the football team. Mr. Folaros, the new principal of Rutland High School, comes from the south where cheering is really big. With his great efforts and support he has made it possible for the varsity squad to now cheer at away football games. Go Raiders!

Boys Soccer

For twenty-five years, soccer at RHS has battled for recognition. The Varsity Boys' Soccer team with head coach Kirk Abrahamson led the battle this year and emerged victorious, winning the Division I Vermont State Championship. The team had a 4-3 start this year. They then went on to win 11 straight games, culminating in the Division I playoffs. After easily defeating Brattleboro 5-0. They were headed for the semifinal game, a place no Rutland soccer team had been in the history of the program at RHS. The game against Colchester proved to be a tough and exciting one. At the end of regulation play, the score was tied, 2-2. After 2 overtimes, the score had not changed, so the team went to an eight-on-eight sudden death overtime. Jesse Labow's goal ended the tie and was the Raiders ticket to the championship game against Essex. After this exciting game, it was time to settle down and focus on the championship. Coach Abrahamson said of his feelings before the game, " I was very nervous because the kids had worked so hard to get there, it would have been very disappointing to lose the final game." Labow showed his grace under pressure a second time in the playoffs during the championship game when he scored the game's only goal off a corner kick from Ben Thurston. All of the hard work this season paid off as the soccer team won the first State Championship title in the 25 year history of Rutland soccer. Senior Captain, Eric Groce said about the win "I accomplished one of my goals my senior year and left a mark in Rutland soccer history." Seth Wilson, another captain, said that the championship means "fulfilling a goal and basically a testament to hard work and perseverance pays off."

FOOTBALL

At every RHS Varisty football game the Raiders were introduced as the defending Division I Vermont State Champions. Due to their hard work, talent, and great coaches, next year they will be intoduced as two-time defending Division I Vermont State Champions. In-state they were undefeated, with the exception of their one loss to BC High. In the past six years Coach Mike Norman has led his team to four state championship games.
Next year the team has their work cut out for them, but with hard work, good coaching, and a good attitude from all the players, we believe they can do it.

Ice Hockey

Some of the goals made by the hockey team at the beginning of the season were to make it to the state meet, have a fun season, and beat MSJ. All of these seem well within their range of abilities as they are well coached and have a fast team. The only drawback to the team is that they lack togetherness and team chemistry. Captain Patrick Collins believes in the future of the team. "We have a lot of strong sophomores so our future as a team looks bright."

Indoor Track

Captains: Emily Fenn, Andrea Lunt, Anthony Mainolfi, Jonathon Reynolds

This year's indoor track team has had a very successful season so far, and the girls especially look to repeat with another state championship. Girls' team captains Emily Fenn and Andrea Lunt are confident. "We're both very proud of how everyone is doing." One thing they feel they have to work on is having more fun and putting their hearts into their races.

To our special Andi:
People are like stained glass windows. They sparkle and shine when the sun is out, but when the darkness sets in, their true beauty is revealed only if there is light from within. Your inner beauty lies in the way you are always willing to give yourself to others. Keep you inner light shining and the windows of the world will remain open to you. We couldn't be more proud of the young woman you have become.

SUCCESS

To Laugh often and much;
to win the respect of intelligent people
and the appreciation of children;
to earn the appreciation of honest critics
and endure the betrayal of false friends;
to appreciate beauty;
to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better,
whether by a healthy child, a garden patch
or a redeemed social condition;
to know even one life has breathed easier
because you have lived.
This is to have succeeded.

Jessica Meryl Gartner

Jessica - There is nothing, as a woman, you cannot be. But there are two things you need to be - true to yourself and responsible to your community.

We wish for you to be a person of character, strong but not tough, gentle but not weak, righteous but not self-righteous, and honest but not unforgiving.

Whenever you journey, may your steps be firm and may you walk in just paths and not be afraid. Whenever you speak, may your words be of wisdom and friendship.

May your hands build and your heart preserve what is good and beautiful in our world. Congratulations! We are very proud of your accomplishments.
